Mrs. Jennie Cohen may be running as the designated Republican candidate for the Assembly from the 1st District, where Tammany long has held forth in undisputed sway, but that does not mean that she is causing "Big Tom" Foley, Tammany leader of the district, any loss of sleep.

For "Big Tom" believes in the men of his district as much as he ever did, and the women he leaves in the hands of Mrs. Minnie Nolan, Democratic women's leader for the district. Mrs. Nolan is the wife of Judge Nolan, who "learned about politics from her," it has been said; so Mr. Foley has nothing to fear from the women, he said yesterday. In fact, he refuses to take Mrs. Cohen's candidacy seriously, as may be inferred from his answer to the question as to whether Peter Hammil's woman opponent meant anything in his life. "Do I think Mrs. Cohen'll be what?

The great "Tom" smiled indulgently.

"I guess you're not well," came his answer.

Mr. Foley was reminded that his district played him false once not long ago, when, contrary to all instructions, express or implied, the "Old First" went overwhelmingly for woman suffrage. It was "Tom" Foley's boast last fall that the suffragists could not get a 10 per cent petition for woman suffrage in his district, and he even promised in a rash moment to dress up in woman's skirts and parade around the neighborhood if the petition were obtained. The suffragettes took his dare, but some-how the petticoat parade never came off, and Mr. Foley would not admit his suffrage defeat until the morning after Election Day.

unit camps to farms where they are employed for day labor will be one of the chief questions that will be raised at the conference of the New York State Women's Land Army, to be held here August 20-21.

The army has thirty-eight camps throughout the state, and houses about 1.000 girls, who are taking the places of that many "farm hands" now gone to war. The girls live in camps by to war. The girls live in camps by squads under the care and supervision of a leader or matron, which necessitates travelling to and from work in automobiles. The increased cost of gasolene and reapers and the difficulty of geting trucks and cars have lately made the transportation problem more acute.

"The farm situation is acute and unless the women of leisure enlist at once and go out to help harvest the crops much of the farm work already done will have been in vain.

"There is a real need to-day for several hundred women to go out on the farms this week, and the situation looms more serious as one contemplates the return to the city of hundreds of the crops that now need harvesting.

"The farmers prefer women between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. The women rre well housed and fed and paid for their work. It is a real patriotic call for volunteers and we perfer women who are not employed in essential industries. Any normal woman can do this work. Before leaving the first the city each applicant undergoes."

the has done in a statement which reads in part:

"As a result of my experience of more than three years in the office of the Attorney General, where I had excellent opportunities of observing the operations of the executive chamber of the state, I reached the conclusion that Governor Whitman was more interested in promoting his own political ambitions than in caring for the interests of the state and the welfare of the people of the state. I saw from the start a tendency on the part of Governor Whitman to build up a personal organization, devoted to him and to his political success rather than to the welfare of the party itself. As a result of my observations I charge:

"That the Governor made appointments to important public positions of men conspicuously unfitted, but who by reason of their political affiliations and experience could help him in getting a renomination and reelection."
